PADI OPEN WATER (BEGINNING)

Beach & Boat w/ MALIBU DIVERS

The allure of the ocean. It has called out to you and you've answered. You've made that decision to become one of the few to slip beneath the gentle, rolling surface of the ocean to discover the wonder and beauty of the other 70% of your planet. The big question is, with so many options available to you, where's the best place to go for your scuba training?

In two words, Malibu Divers.

We have the highest PADI certification for a training facility in Southern California, we also offer the most complete, affordable and exciting Open Water courses we've seen. Our programs include a day of beach diving at a local beach (conditions dependent) and another day diving on a beautiful and remote part of Channel Islands as part of the standard course. It's like going on vacation to learn. No where else will you find a scuba package as fun and adventurous as we make our training programs.

FULL CERTIFICATION PROGRAMS

Get certified in only two weekends. Complete all your pool dives, and course work over the first weekend and then a ocean dive the next weekend. Experience both local Beach diving and local area Boat diving. We'll meet at one of our local beaches on one weekday day for your Open Water dives, and then again meet at one of our local harbors (MDR, Ventura or San Pedro) and do your final checkout dives. After your Open Water certification dives on Sunday, continue your training with Specialties or start the Advanced Open Water Class (and Save!) Call for Price
